SUNDAY FIRES.

Series of Severe Conflagrations,
With Much Loss of Life.

Patterson, N. J., the Heaviest Sufferer, the Loss Being Estimated at $10,000,000.

A fire which originated in a street railway powerhouse at Patterson, N. J., just after midnight burned fiercely until Sunday afternoon. In all twenty-five blocks were burned, comprising a part of the business center and a portion of the residence section. The loss is estimated at $10,000,000. The City Hall, all the national banks, five churches and all the principal business houses and public buildings were in the burned district.
No lives were lost, but a number of persons were injured. Fire departments from all the neighboring towns aided in subduing the conflagration. Prompt relief measures were taken by Gov. Murphy and Mayor Hinchliffe, but applications for aid have not been numerous, the well-to-do classes being the principal sufferers. Tents have been ordered for the thousands homeless.

Ten men and a chambermaid are dead, one man is missing, eight are dangerously injured and ten more had narrow escapes, and are frostbitten as the result of the burning of the Empire Hotel in St. Louis.
Most of the dead were burned to death or suffocated in their rooms.

Fire in the business center of Elberton, Ga., Sunday morning, caused damage which is estimated at $100,000.

Several business houses in Scotts-ville were destroyed by a fire which started at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The loss is estimated at at $30,000.

Fourteen persons were seriously injured by an early morning fire, which did $300,000 damages in Brooklyn.

The chapter house of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity at Indiana University, Bloomington, was destroyed Sunday morning.

Fine Building to be Built in the Spring.

With the opening of spring the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company will commence the erection of a handsome building for its use. The stockholders held their regular annual meeting at Hotel Latham last week and took decisive action on the matter. The President and General Manager
were looking round the city last week for a suitable site.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A negro girl, aged four years,
whose father lives on the farm of Mr. R. W. Stowe, near Julien, was horribly burned Sunday. While playing around the fire with another child her dress was caught by the flames. As soon as possible the child ran in the direction of a pond within a short distance, meeting a man she was grabbed and the flames extinguished. She lingered in great pain until yesterday morning when she died.

Plugged a Chicken Thief.

Abraham Lester, of Perryville
returned home at a late hour Saturday night and shot Nelson Lewis, whom he found invading his chick-house. Lewis, it is thought, will probably die.

tures belonging to J. L. Burch, bankrupt, was sold yesterday by

A MOUNTAIN

Of Persuasive Power and Earnest Plea and Eloquence.

3,500 People Fill the Tabernacle
Anxious to Hear the Word
of God

FRIDAY NIGHT.

Dr. Pentecost preached Friday night the last of his series of sermons on the text, "He that believeth not, shall be damned." The special text of the evening was Matthew 23:33. The theme was, "The Nature of future punishment." The preacher said it was folly to interpose our opinions here, or our likes or our dislikes. It is too serious a matter to be tolerable. What does our Saviour say and what does he mean? This should be and is the whole course of the thoughtful, earnest mind. Not even the inspired Apostle should be considered. The words of the gracious Christ, who loved us so well as to die for us on the cross, only should be admitted. He shall tell us what it is to be damned. First we note what Jesus says in John 3:19. "He that believeth not is condemned already." Sentence is already passed, the trial is over. We are not in a state of probation in this world. The grace of God offers us deliverance, it is true, but the offer
is to those who are under sentence of death, being "condemned already." There is a stay of execution, but the execution is not less sure for that, unless we repent.
Just what is the final catastrophe
of unbelief, the great preacher said he did not know. Nevertheless there was much that was certain and unmistakable in the teaching of Jesus touching it. The parable of the ten virgins unmistakably
teaches that the foolish, unbelieving
sinner shall be shut out of heaven.
The master represents himself as saying to some in the judgment,
"Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels." And again he speaks in Matthew 8:12 and in Luke 13:28 of the thrusting out of some—the rich man said in hell he was "tormented in this flame." In Matthew 25:4 and also in Rev.
20:4 there is held before the unbel-lievers the prospects of the companionship of devils and all wicked persons. Matthew 25:46 teaches the eternity of the awful state. To be damned there, is to be condemned here; to be shut out of heaven, to be banished from the presence of God, and that with violence; to be tormented with remorse,
shame and unappeased longings—
to suffer the companionship of all evil men and all devils, and to endure all this forever. It is madness to waive these pictures aside
by saying "they are just pictures."
The serious Christ meant something,
by these figures. There must be a great reality behind them. If he does not mean by these most awful and terrible statements some reality that is not less than the everlasting pain and degradation of the soul, how can we be sure that his promise of eternal life is, in its proper and natural sense reliable?

So we learn that heaven is not very far away. God said on that mountain to hear—not Moses, not
the prophets—"My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased"—the son
of God.

Where is heaven? I do not think it is very far away.
You will never get a vision of Christ
until you confess Him. I want to go to heaven. I do not believe that spirits come to us, talk to us. But if our eyes were opened we would see, as the servant of Elisha saw at Dothan, when God opened his eyes,—we would see round about us the mountains and hills crowded with the angels of God. I need so much taking care of—whether amongst men or in the street, on the cars—anywhere. It is not so far away, we must not forget that we are allied to that world. The Jews have a tradition that Moses did not die, that on Nebo—God just kissed his spirit away. We hear a good deal of talk about archangels.
There is but one archangel—Michael, the angel of the resurrection.
The devil disputed about the body of Moses, but God kissed his spirit
away, and Michael bore his body
to heaven.

From the transfiguration we learn that we will recognize those we have loved and lost for a while. I want to go to heaven because I will see my mother and my boy. The first one I want to see when I get there—and I believe he will be the first—is my Lord. And close by his side I will see my mother. I do not believe heaven is as far away
as the sun, or the stars or the moon.

thread of the Doctor's discourse picked out here and there a pearl of comfort and consolation that will be treasured up in memory.

The Doctor chose as the foundation of his remarks the 17th chapter of Matthew, verses 1 to 8 inclusive. He spoke of the Father bearing witness that Christ is the son of God. Besides, Peter, James and John were there on the mount and heard the audible voice of God saying, "This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased, hear ye him." And there were Moses and Elias talking with him. The declaration of the eye-witnesses is found also in 2d Peter 1: 16, "We have not followed cunningly devised fables, * * but were eye-witnesses of His majesty." "His face did shine as the sun." They beheld his glory, God manifest in the flesh. Christ was human enough for all to be accessible to him. Sixty years after the transfiguration
John heard him say, "I was dead but am alive forevermore." He felt the thrilling touch of his dear
hand and heard the thrilling tone
of his dear voice saying to him on the Isle of Patmos, "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end." "Fear not, John." Paul saw that glory on the way from Jerusalem to Damascus, heard that voice—"Saul, why persecutest thou me?"

So we learn that heaven is not
very far away. God said on that
mountain to hear—not Moses, not
the prophets—"My beloved Son, in
whom I am well pleased"—the son
of God.

Where is heaven? I
do not think it is very far away.
You will never get a vision of Christ
until you confess Him. I want to go to heaven. I do not believe that spirits come to us, talk to us. But
if our eyes were opened we would

ills are no compensation for my heart.

SUNDAY NIGHT.

Long before the hour for services to begin the Tabernacle began to fill and there were more in the building by probably 500 people
than at the afternoon services.
Even before the prayer for consecration for the collection the crowd continued to pour in. The subject was, "Not Far From the Kingdom of God." The 12th chapter of Mark, beginning at the 28th verse was read down to the 34th verse.
The Doctor said that the scribe
thought to catch Jesus in his talk.
After listening to Christ for awhile
and perceiving that he answered
well, he asked Jesus the question,
"Which is the first commandment?"
Christ's answer summarized in one sentence both tables of the law.
The scribe then exclaimed, "Well said, Master. There is one God;
* * * and to love Him with all the heart, and with all the understanding * * * and to love his neighbor
as himself, is more than all burnt-offerings and sacrifices." Jesus said to him, "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." He was a serious-minded man. There is a warning in this. Sooner or later most men, by their environments and circumstances, will be near the kingdom of God. It is a crisis.
They must make an intelligent decision for their life. They are in the valley of decision. Herod was near the kingdom but went back.
Pilate was in a similar position. Some of you here to-night are in the valley of decision—You are debating the question, and must go forward or go back. Some men are nearer than others in mental and moral attitude. That man is nearer who is born and raised in happier circumstances—nearer by reason of his privileges, who has a godly father and mother—than the poor, unfortunate man in a home where God is not known and recognized. There is nothing so unfortunate as a Godless and Christless home, where there is no Christian atmosphere and where God is not worshipped. The man is not near the kingdom who never goes to the house of God. There are men and women who do attend church occasionally, because they think it is the proper thing to do, and like the scribe, give their assent to the great truths of the word of God, but they do not accept Christ and are still out of the kingdom. Men have said to me, "The teachings of the Gospel commend themselves to me,
but I have not embraced Christ."
There are honest hearts that are seeking the kingdom of God. Nathaniel was an honest seeker, sitting in the garden studying the scriptures. No honest inquirer is far from the kingdom of God. Cornelius stepped into the kingdom.
The Eunuch stepped into the kingdom in a minute. God has a man on the lookout when a man is near the kingdom. The Greeks would see Jesus, and Andrew and Philip

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 7, 1901.
Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis, Mo.—
Dear Sir: I have sold your Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, for the past three years, and from experience I can say I have never sold any kidney and bladder remedy of superior merits.

Most respectfully,
THOMAS D. ARMISTEAD.

BOWEL TROUBLE IN FOWLS.

Some of The Causes and Some Remedies.

One cause of diarrhoea is coarse or half-cooked food. Too much bran, or only warming it with tepid water, leads to diarrhoea. The safe plan, to avoid this danger, is to bake, in milk pans for at least one hour, all chicken mash. I take no chances from half-cooked food, and am sure, from my own experience, that it pays well to take the extra time involved.

Avoid feeding sour milk to very young chicks, if it, in hot weather, is likely to produce bowel trouble. The absence of grit will loosen the discharge from the bowels.

A sudden shower sometimes so chills young chicks as to produce diarrhoea.

Chicks with diarrhoea should first of all have a comfortable place to rest in. This does not mean they are to be coddled. They are to have a good chance to get in the open air and on clean earth if they wish, with just as free an opportunity to get into a warm brooder when they so desire. The food should be either dry grain, with plenty of the right sized grit, or well cooked mash that is constipating. Mash to be of this character should contain less bran and more middlings and be mixed with milk and baked.

Hens have diarrhoea from improper feeding. Irregular, careless giving of food, too much today, too little to-morrow, none at all the next day, upsets crop, gizzard and bowels.

Another source of bowel trouble is filthy drinking water. It is not enough to add each day water to that left over from the day before, never cleaning the dish. Water vessels should be rinsed every day and filled with fresh, clean water, not forfeiting a weekly scalding in warm weather.

Old hens that have been over-fat and are breaking down as a result, often have a bad smelling diarrhoea.

Hens running wild on the farm, having full liberty to forage for themselves, seldom have diarrhoea, but it appears confined and dependent upon man for food and drink.

Give every bird with diarrhoea the chance to get at growing grass, if in the season of it; feed dry grain, largely wheat; add one teaspoonful tincture iron to each quart of drinking water, and give in earthen vessels. If the attack of diarrhoea is sudden and acute, give one teaspoonful castor oil and follow it in an hour with three grains Dover's powder.

Diarrhoea is seen in some cases of scrofula, consumption and tuberculosis and will be considered in connection with those diseases. — American Poultry Journal.

Educate Your Bowels.

Your bowels can be trained as well as your muscles or your brain. Cascarets Candy Cathartic train your bowels to do right. Genuine tablets stamped C. C. C. Never sold in bulk. All druggists, roc.

Buff Orpingtons.

One great point of the superiority of the Buff Orpingtons over any other breed of fowls is their wonderful laying qualities. In this respect they surpass even the Leghorns, being everlasting layers; in size they compare favorably with the large breeds, cocks weigh 10 to 12 lbs., hens 7 to 9 lbs., and for table use they cannot be excelled. They are deep in body, broad and of good long breast, not very high on the legs. Chicks are exceedingly hardy and grow very fast, and it is possible to raise about every chick as far as disease is concerned.

These fowls breed remarkably well to color, which is a rich buff throughout. They are very tame, a low fence being sufficient to keep them enclosed. It is not necessary if one has the Buff Orpingtons, to keep a small breed for eggs and a large breed for the table, as the Buff Orpingtons comprise all these most valuable points. They came from the union of a Golden Spangled Hamburg Male with Dorking Hens. The progeny of this union was mated to a Buff Cochon Male.

Favus, or Sore Head.

Favus is a disease of the scalp, caused by a vegetable parasite, and the treatment recommended is an ointment composed of two per cent carbolic acid and vaseline. The "carbolicized" vaseline of the drug store is the substance used. Sore head prevails in southern states more than in the north, and sometimes much difficulty is experienced in its cure. Good results will also result if the carbolicized vaseline is reinforced by cedar oil, such as an ounce of the carbolicized vaseline, a teaspoonful of cedar oil, and a level tablespoonful of finely pulverized sulphur. Apply once a day until the difficulty is removed. It will also cure the scabby legs in poultry. Apply the remedy moderately warm.

THE TERM "SLIM."

Has a Curious Significance Among People of South Africa.

"We have an expression in South Africa which I find nobody understands over here," said Capt. Meradieu, an officer of the Cape Colony scouts, who has recently come to America with his wife, Miss Irene Ashby, the lecturer on labor topics.

"We have a way of calling a man who is tricky in his dealings 'slim.' We speak of the 'slimness' of the South African native, for example. He is always trying to get the better of you in a bargain. He is very ingenious about it, and once you know his ways, is not at all difficult to deal with. If you have something you want to sell for two shillings you must begin by asking him four for it, and when he has beaten you down to two he will be quite satisfied, even if the thing is worth only a shilling. He will always trick you if he can."

"We call that being 'slim.' Over here, I think, you say 'slick' or 'smooth,' but as the expression is meant to describe a quality which often enables a man to get out of a tight place, I think 'slim' is quite as good a word as 'slick.'" — N. Y. Times.

A Rat-Isake Bite.

To illustrate the quickness with which death ensues from the bite of a big rattler: A resident of this city was after quail, with two fine pointers. After scattering a large convey he began to pick up a stray bird here and there. One fell about 50 yards ahead, and calling to his dog: "Dead bird," he reloaded and slowly advanced. Just as the dog reached the bird he was seen to leap into the air a foot or two, the action being accompanied by a faint yelp. Now the quail fell, as I have said, only about 50 yards away, but when the hunter reached the spot the dog lay stone dead. He had been struck by a rattler six feet in length, and death was nearly instantaneous. — N. Y. Press.

THIS AND THAT.

San Pedro, Cal., has a lobster cannery with a capacity for two tons a day. Last October it shipped 200 cases.

The St. Lawrence river is only 775 miles long, but if the lake system be also taken into account its total length will exceed 2,000 miles.

Tariff was the name of the Moorish chieftain. About at Tarifa, who had a fortress near the straits of Gibraltar, and levied toll on ships and merchandise passing through.

Corpses once meant a body, whether living or dead. Many old writs are extant in which the sheriff or his deputy is commanded to bring the corpse of such a man into court.

The arshin, a common measure of length on Turkish roads, is 30 inches. A thousand arshins is considered the unit of distance, equivalent to something less than 1,000 yards.

Garble originally meant to cull over, as beans or peas would be examined to free them from pebbles. Wycliffe's translation of the Bible says that "Gideon garbled his host."

The western Africans have a musical instrument called the zanze. It is a board in which are fastened from 20 to 30 bits of iron wire of different lengths and sizes; the wires are plucked with the fingers, and the tone produced is not unpleasant.

Petroleum and its products are applied in surgery and medicine; in the making of ice and the production of light; in paint manufacture and the preparation of oilcloths; in the manipulation of rubber and in washing wool. Where it is cheap, it replaces coal; in almost all modern plants some one of the petroleum derivatives, is used for the enrichment of gas. For general lubrication, the paraffin oils are the most serviceable.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE.

Oldest and Most Celebrated of All the Orders of Chivalry.

Francis Joseph is the head of the Order of the Golden Fleece, the oldest and most celebrated of all the orders of chivalry. It was organized by Philip the Good of Burgundy during the crusades, and has included among its members some of the most famous warriors, statesmen and sovereigns in history. Originally the number was limited to 31, but Charles V. of Spain, when dean of the chapter, with the sanction of Pope Leo X., increased the complement to 50, and Philip III. of the house of Hapsburg, in 1598 secured a further increase to 62. The rules of the order require that the life of the members should be devoted to the propagation of the Roman Catholic faith, hence no Protestant can be admitted without renouncing his religion. George IV. of England, after several urgent requests, had the Golden Fleece bestowed upon him, but never took the oath and never attended any of the meetings of the chapter. Neither the king of England nor the emperor of Russia nor the kaiser of Germany is a member for religious reasons. The president of France was elected recently, and the little king of Spain, when he reaches his eighteenth year, will be admitted to the first vacancy. — William E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weak and the blood impoverished.

The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

COACHED BY SISTER.

Little Ethel Rothwell Trained "Young Corbett" for Ring.

First Champion Pugilist Who Owes All His Skill, Fame and Prowess to the Clever Advice of a Little Woman.

"Young Corbett," the champion light-weight pugilist of the world, owes his supremacy to a woman. Not in the ordinary romantic sense. Young Corbett's athletic greatness has no sentimental basis. On the contrary, in the most literal sense of the words, "Young Corbett," otherwise William Rothwell, has been expertly coached for his great part by his younger sister.

Plainly, therefore, glory ought to fall where glory is due. Miss Ethel Rothwell, who is 14 in the matter of years, but infinitely more mature in the matter of common sense, ought to have at least as much credit as the "trainers" of other great fighters have had. Indeed, if the extent of the service she has rendered her brother were widely known, Miss Ethel, who is now the most domestic and retiring of misses, would be in demand as an expert authority by light-weights the world over.

As a "coach" Ethel was born, not made. In her well-balanced little head the principles of successful prize-fighting were providentially innate. Or this at least was inferred by the representative of the New York World who called upon her at her home in Denver.

It is useless to deny, though this is incidental, that Miss Ethel is exceptionally attractive. She is a vivacious red-cheeked young lady, with deep blue eyes and two heavy braids of auburn hair.

The main point is that in build she greatly resembles the champion.

"YOUNG CORBETT."
(Featherweight Champion Who Was Trained by His Sister.)

Young ladies who may be moved to emulate her may be interested to know that the Denver Diana is only four feet eleven inches tall. She is, however, extraordinarily muscular with no extra pounds. Her exact measurements are as follows: Forearm, 8 inches; biceps, 9 inches; wrist, 5 inches; calf, 11 inches; thigh, 16½ inches; waist, 18 inches; neck, 13 inches; chest, 30 inches; reach, 60 inches.

Now, in addition to her muscle and pretty face, Miss Ethel is a young lady of marked initiative. When her stalwart young brother confided to her quite in secret his pugilistic ambitions she said to him:

"Listen to me, Will. If you want to be a fighter, skip rope. It will help your wind and it will make your feet nimble."

The budding champion laughed. Whereupon his sister explained further and he took her advice. This was two years ago. To-day he is the champion. This illustrates the remarkable sagacity of woman.

Having become an expert rope-skipper and demonstrated the wisdom of the exercise to his own satisfaction, young Mr. Rothwell needed no persuasion to adopt the next piece of advice his sister gave him.

This was that he should try sawing wood. In the back yard of the Rothwell house there is always an enormous stack of logs and a large saw.

She advised him to saw with his right hand for 15 or 20 minutes and then do the same with his left. This was to help him as a puncher. She was always present to see that he did it well.

If he grew tired she still kept him at it. Before entering a battle Young Corbett was coached at home or at his training quarters by this sister. At almost every fight she accompanied him as far as the amphitheater, when she would go home and await the result of his encounter. Her advice was always: "Keep cool and let the other fellow do the worrying."

She figured that he would have a better show of winning by sidestepping his opponent and delivering his famous punches to the right or left jaw. It was seen about two years ago that the "kid" changed his tactics in the ring, and it was at his sister's advice that he did so.

Wild Cranberry Jam.
A wild cranberry called "Tranbar" in Swedish, for which no use ever has been found in the Scandinavian countries, has now found a market in Germany. 2,234 quarts having been shipped recently to one firm in Chemnitz. The Germans convert the berries into a jam that bids fair to rival English preserves.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are authorized to announce
MR. WEBB C. BELL,
Of Christian County, as a candidate for Railroad Commissioner in the First Railroad District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election Nov. 1903.

Stewart Johnston, son of Maj. P. P. Johnston, of Lexington, died suddenly in Montana, where he was engaged in business, aged 28 years.

The Legislature has begun on its second half of the session. There are 600 bills clogging the committee but only one has passed both houses.

The will of Morris Reiman, a Jew, was probated in Chicago last Friday. He left $1,000 to be expended in the distribution of Robert G. Ingersoll's infidel literature to "civilized christians."

Rear Admiral Sampson on Saturday reached the age of 62 years and went upon the retired list of the Navy. Admiral Sampson is ill and not expected to live long. Rear Admiral Cromwell also went on the retired list at the same time.

Maria Halpin, the woman who figured in the sensational story sprung on Grover Cleveland in the campaign of 1884, died last week at New Rochelle, N. Y. aged about 60 years.

Lexington will give a $7-a-plate spread to the Legislature to-day, and even Doc Brown, who voted against the moving of the Capitol, is liable to be won over to the Lexington side. Of course there will be some things on the menu that will not be served in a "plate."

Mrs. Elizabeth Wells, an English woman, claims to have discovered a cypher in Sir Francis Bacon's works, proving that Queen Elizabeth was his mother, she having been secretly married to the Earl of Leicester.

The Committee on the constitutional amendments created a sensation by reporting favorably Mr. Parker's bill to move the capital to Lexington. The bill provides for a constitutional amendment to be submitted to a popular vote. Only one member of the committee voted against the report.

The local musical talent, of Hopkinsville has decided upon the opera to be produced sometime in the near future. "Dorothy" has been selected and only one serious obstacle is being encountered—to find a couple of pretty girls who can at the same time sing and wear tights. These double accomplishments are none too easily found in the same young lady. It may be found necessary to "cut out" the tights, and lay more stress on the music.

In order to meet a growing demand of houses throughout the country to provide better postal facilities for the payment of minor obligations, Senator Mason, of Illinois, has introduced a bill which has for its object the arrangement for and transmission through the mails of stamp certificates to be used in lieu of postage stamps now commonly employed in the payment of mail accounts—the certificates to represent fractional parts of a dollar.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free. Hall's family pills are the best.

All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, pollutes the breath, deranges the stomach and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, treatment must be constitutional—alterative and tonic. "I was afflicted with catarrh. I took medicines of different kinds, giving each a fair trial; but gradually grew worse until I could hardly hear, taste or smell. I then concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking five bottles I was cured and have not had any return of the disease since." EUGENE FERRIS, Lebanon, Kan.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Cures catarrh—it soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane and builds up the whole system.

Mr. Chas. Knight, President of the Board of Commissioners of the Western Asylum, will go to Frankfort to-day, by invitation, to appear before the joint committee on Charitable Institutions. He will be accompanied by Judge Jas. Breathitt, a member of the Board, unless the illness of one of his children continues so serious as to prevent him from leaving home. They go to discuss business matters, more than the scandals that have disgraced the asylum. They are both lawyers of ability and able to present the facts as they have existed. The House Committee is known to be in close touch with the administration's ideas, but the Senate Committee is believed to be in favor of inquiring into the characters of the men they are asked to confirm. It is by no means certain that the Senate, which is made up of a high class of men, good citizens and many of them christians, will vote to confirm men who have been punished as law-breakers, while under a solemn official oath to support the constitutions and laws of Kentucky.

Table Talk. Philadelphia, is always the friend of the housewife with its helpful suggestions on what to eat and how to prepare it. The ever recurring meal time, three times a day, three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, all the years of one's life, presents one of the most monotonous and perplexing problems to the housekeeper. Yet, people must eat. Table Talk brings with it each month so many new and attractive ideas in this direction, that the preparation of the daily meals may easily become a pleasure instead of a burden.

Table Talk is full of interesting articles relating to household management and domestic topics. The February number has an article entitled "A Winter Scene on a Southern Plantation." It vividly describes a hog killing time on one of those large plantations where the help is colored. It is amusing and interesting. Many other excellent articles are in this number; which will be sent you for ten cents, and preceding numbers sent free on request.

Senator Edwards is proving himself a working member of the Senate. He has already introduced half a dozen or more bills of considerable importance. One of these is to amend section 3484 of the Statutes, by providing that no one shall be eligible to the office of councilman in fourth-class cities who holds a license granted by the council.

The decision of the Republicans in congress to take the seat of John Rhea in Congress and give it to Mack Moss, is in open defiance of the election laws of Kentucky as construed by the Court of Appeals. None of the contested ballots counted for Moss were returned according to law, with an explanatory statement attached to each ballot.

By a vote of 75 to 5, the House has passed the Denton bill making the common school law apply to common schools existing under separate charters.

A resolution has been offered in the Senate to pay Senator Edwards $421 for expenses incurred in preparing for the contest for his seat made by John Feland.

Young Teddy Roosevelt is very ill with pneumonia and the President has been compelled to postpone his visit to Charleston on the 12th.

As soon as Senator Richardson returned from his visit to the Western Asylum he introduced a bill to tighten up the gambling laws. This may have been merely a coincidence.

COMING ATTRACTION

Hoyt's Latest Comedy "A Day and a Night."

Hoyt's latest comedy "A Day and a Night" is a coming attraction. The plot tells of an old naval officer who on returning from a long cruise, finds his son is not as much a man of the world as he would like, as he is interested in sewing circles, church fairs and similar amusements. The young man goes to select members for a church choir. The father, who is anxious to show his son a little of the world, hunts up an old friend, a theatrical manager, and asks his advice. The manager arranges to introduce a number of chorus girls to the son as concert singers. To this the father agrees, and promises to remain concealed and witness the fun. An ex-leading lady of the theatre puts in an appearance and tells the manager the story of her experience after leaving the stage. She is invited to a supper party to renew old acquaintances and when all are assembled the leading lady discovers the good young man to be her affianced husband. She is disconcerted for a moment, but finally determines to bluff it out, and disclaims all former acquaintance, informing him it is a case of mistaken identity. She interrogates the young man as to his finances and discovers he is more of a man of the world than she supposed. Finally he throws off his cloak of hypocrisy and emerges as "one of the boys," and proceeds to enjoy himself. When the fun is at its height, the mother of the young man puts in an appearance. The father comes from his hiding place and denounces the mother for bringing up the son in the wrong path, the ex-leading lady reveals herself to her lover and all is forgiven.

"A Day and a Night" will be presented at Holland's Opera House, Wednesday night, Feb. 19. Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year.—R. Wheeler, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by all druggists.

RAILROAD WON.

Damage Suit Knocked Out By Supreme Court.

In the case of the L. & N. Railroad Company against Solomon Cleeman, the Supreme Court of Tennessee has reversed the judgment of the lower court, which awarding damages.

Cleeman sued the company for damages for an attempt to eject him from a railroad train. He tendered a ticket that had been punched from Russellville, Ky., to Guthrie several days after the date of the purchase, he having used the ticket for part of the way on the date it was bought. The court ruled that while it was a first class ticket, it could only be used for a continuous passage, and when the trip was once started it must be continued. The judgment of the lower court in awarding damages was therefore reversed.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Schley's Santiago

BY GEORGE EDWARD GRAHAM.

The intrepid American Press war correspondent, who was aboard the U. S. S. Brooklyn during the entire five months of the campaign. Illustrated with photographs taken by the Author during the fight.

The Most Sensational Book of the Day.

The true story of the famous cruise of the Flying Squadron under Commodore Winfield Scott Schley, including the blockade and destruction of the Spanish fleet, TOLD FOR THE FIRST TIME.

Contains an authentic endorsement and personal account of the battle by Rear-Admiral Schley.

"The facts of the story of the movements and operations of the Flying Squadron as the author tells them in this book are correct."

—W. S. SCHLEY.

An interesting narrative of facts. Explains the so-called "Retrospective Movement," the "Loop," the "Cooling Problem," and settles conclusively every adverse ruling of the Court of Inquiry.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, when Governor of New York, said:—"Mr. Graham's story is the best account I have heard or read of the naval fighting during the war. It needed just as much courage to go about taking photographs as it did to work the guns."

THE NEW YORK HERALD says:—"Mr. Graham, in the telling of facts, leaves the reader free to make his own deduction that several naval officers need a Court of Inquiry to re-establish their reputations, if they can be re-established."

No subject has ever been before the public that has interested everybody as the manner in which Admiral Schley has been treated, and the American people demand the full recognition of the Hero of Santiago. This book tells everything just as it occurred and as the eyewitnesses saw it. Book is selling like wildfire. Liberal commissions. Outfit and books now ready. Send seven 2-cent stamps for canvassing outfit. ACT QUICK. Now is the time to MAKE MONEY.

BILL REPORTED.

Six Ends Which the Measure Is To Accomplish

The Report a Wise, Conservative And Elaborate Measure.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Chairman Ray, of the House Committee on Judiciary, today presented the report on the bill for the protection of the President and the suppression of crime against the government. The report states that the committee has carefully considered the many anti-anarchist measures and has sought to present a wise, conservative, constitutional and effective measure. The purposes of the bill are summed up as follows:

First—Prevent resistance to and protect the President and Vice-President of the United States and those by law in the line of succession to that high office.

Second—Protect the Ministers and Ambassadors of foreign governments accredited to and within the United States.

Third—Prevent the open and deliberate approval of certain crimes and also certain unlawful teachings, which if permitted are calculated and intended to breed lawlessness and crime against and culminate in the destruction of the Government.

Fourth—Prevent the coming to or naturalization in this country of those who teach or entertain such pernicious doctrines.

Fifth—Prevent conspiracies in the United States to murder the rulers of other civilized nations.

Sixth—Provide adequate and uniform punishments for these offenses wherever committed. All the offenses against government and intended to impair or overthrow the government of the United States.

The report makes an elaborate presentation of the powers of Congress to deal with the subject; the committee has exercised not to trench upon legitimate freedom of speech and of the press.

Man Tried And Fined

Over The Telephone.

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Feb. 7.—Rockcastle county steps to the front with another precedent in legal proceedings. Judge Durham, who is magistrate in the Wildie district, came to town on some business Wednesday. He was called up over the telephone by Constable Harry Jones, saying he had in charge Dan Dickerson, charged with breach of the peace. Dickerson asked an immediate trial. It was agreed to conduct the trial by telephone.

Half an hour's use of the wires by Judge Durham and County Attorney Bethurum at this end, and the Constable and defendant at the other, concluded the trial, the defendant being fined with costs amounting to $12, which was promptly paid.

That Cough Hangs On

You have used all sorts of cough remedies but it does not yield; it is too deep seated. It may wear itself out in time, but it is more liable to produce la grippe, pneumonia or a serious throat affection. You need something that will give you strength and build up the body.

A MOUNTAIN.

were ready and took them to him. When a man is convinced of sin and righteousness and judgment he is not far from the kingdom of God.

There is a warning. To be near the kingdom of God is not being in it. To be convinced is not conversion. Almost persuaded is but lost. Many a man has been almost persuaded to be a Christian, but is lost. The scribe was near, but there is no evidence that comes down to us that he got any nearer.

There is such a thing as falling from grace, but no man ever fell out of grace. The young ruler came to Christ, but Christianity involved a sacrifice. He cared more for money than life, he loved money better than his soul's salvation. He walked away from Christ, and that is damnation. Another scribe came to Christ, and he told him "I do not want to deceive you." "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the son of man hath not where to lay his head." Another man asked Christ to let him go and bury his father, but he was told, "let the dead bury the dead, come and follow me." Even a dead father must not stand between a man and God. Another said, "Lord I will follow thee, but let me first go and bid them farewell which are at home in my house." Desertion of Christ means that you will die or tumble into hell. Being so near Christ and turning away brings your spiritual nature in danger of destruction. He that trembles on the brink of the valley of decision and goes deliberately back into sin, has no more a place for repentance. "If any man draw back my soul shall have no pleasure in him. (Heb. 19:38.)

The man who is near to the kingdom of God and does not step in is the man who advertises himself for the devil. Near to the kingdom and hesitating to step over the line is when the power of satan gets hold of him. "Now or never," the devil says. If you are once over the line into the kingdom of God, there is not enough devils in hell to get you out. He gets a pull at you, a back at you, but he never can pull you out. Christ says, "Neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand." (John 10:28.) Will you cross over the line? I cannot pull you over the line, neither can any other man. "God cannot pull you into the kingdom. You have got to choose. Forty years ago when I determined to surrender to Christ, I said to myself, "I don't know whether it is true I am in the kingdom, but men that I have confidence in tell me it is true, and I am going to lie on the threshold of the kingdom of God until he sets me on my feet." It was not long before I was in the kingdom.

Twenty-three Years.

In view of the fact that the KENTUCKIAN has wound up its 23rd year of success, it is not out of place to say a word to its friends. The KENTUCKIAN has long since become a fixture of Hopkinsville.

All Newspaper Records in the City Have Been Broken by it.

No other paper ever published in Hopkinsville can point to a record of more than 20 years, with each year's business better than the one before. How many papers in that time have tried to run in Hopkinsville and fallen by the wayside? How many have failed to reach the goal?

An ocean cable 10,000 miles long would not serve the purpose for which it was designed if it fell short within twenty feet of the receiving-instrument.

It isn't the first end that counts. It's the last end. The start is nothing. Every contestant starts in a race, but how many finish? Almost any horse can begin in a race. Wish a few trials, ever an old plug may get away from the wire all right, but it's the coming under the wire for the last time that counts, it's being in the race to the finish that is alone valuable.

A great many things in this world are made to begin well enough, but they fall short.

The KENTUCKIAN as an advertising medium has never fallen short. As a news medium, occupying a field of its own choosing, it has for 20 years stood squarely upon its merits and succeeded

WHERE OTHERS FAILED.

Advertisers should bear this in mind. Money spent for Newspaper Advertising is an investment. It is not how much the advertising costs, but how large will be the returns. The mission of Newspaper Advertising is to Sell Goods. When the careful merchant has decided the important question as to the right medium, then, by attractive display advertising in that medium, he will inevitably increase sales. This result follows as surely as day follows night. The is the medium that pays, because it reaches the people. It has among its patrons advertisers who have been with it without a break for 12 to 15 years. It numbers the very best class of advertisers in their respective lines of business.

If you are not already a customer of ours, we want to make you one, and your advertising ONE OF OUR SPECIALTIES.

Newspaper advertising has become an indispensable adjunct to business. You need the advertising, we have the space to sell. Co do business with each other.

And to the reading public, remember we cover the entire news field twice a week for only $2 a year. At least one half of the news we give is in advance of other publications, because our facilities for gathering out-of-town news are equaled by none. If your time is out renew promptly. If you have never taken the KENTUCKIAN, try it for 1902.

ZOOLOGICAL ENIGMA.

Black Ape Creates Big Stir with His Jungle Jargon.

Ereites the East African Baboons in the New York Zoo by a Certain Series of Sounds Which Convey Tantalizing Suggestion.

"Hist, Pek-k-k-k. Hu-huh."

This from the vicious little blackape in the monkey house at the New York zoological park. Instantly there is a rumpus in the cage of the East African baboons opposite. They throw themselves against their wire bars in a vain attempt to get at the wicked little simian, who sits saucily grinning at them from the safety of his cage.

The strangest part of it all is that the black ape's voice is not at all loud. What he says is in a low tone. The other monkeys, apes and chimpanzees may laugh, yell, chatter or whisper among themselves to their heart's content and the ugly East African baboons pay no attention. The black ape talks with his neighbors by the hour and there is nothing doing. But when time hangs heavily on his hands and the grotesque people of the monkey house get sleepy, he looks across at the baboons and exclaims: "Hist, Pek-k-k-k. Hu-huh." And there is a row on at once.

Now one of the policemen has imitated the speech so well that he can occasion the same rumpus in the baboon cage.

What all the keepers at the zoo now want to know is: "What is the correct translation of 'hist, pek-k-k-k. Hu-huh' in East African jungle talk?"

It was suggested the other day that Prof. Garner be asked to visit the garden and translate the jargon. One thing has been agreed on, that the sentence refers to something about race, religion or politics, for the baboons act precisely like men when some one yells at them something derogatory of their views on one of these important subjects.

MOVING SIDEWALK URGED.

Novel Underground System Which Has Been Suggested to Relieve the Streets of Paris.

A novel plan to relieve the congested condition of Paris streets has just been submitted at a meeting of prominent engineers which was held to discuss further improvements in public transportation. M. Cassalonga, a well-known civil engineer, suggested that an underground moving sidewalk similar to that at the Paris exposition of 1900, but much larger, be constructed. According to his plan there would be four platforms, each moving at a different rate of speed from the others, the fastest going at the rate of 13 miles an hour.

M. Cassalonga convinced his hearers that such a scheme would be cheaper than an electric underground railway and that it would multiply greatly the accommodation of the public. He said to the correspondent of the Chicago Daily News:

"Part of the platform might be given up to the use of heavy teams, the city thus gaining both from an esthetic and a pecuniary point of view, since the paving department would save hundreds of thousands of francs annually by the reduction of wear on the street surfaces. I am sure also that the public would prefer the rolling sidewalk to stuffy cars, not to mention the elimination of danger from collision."

Plans and estimates of the curious undertaking were submitted to the traction members of the municipal council, members of which reported that they were vastly attracted by the idea, provided electric power for it would not prove too costly.

PRETTY COEDS FAST.

Students of University of Iowa Abstain from Food for Three Days on a Wager.

Miss Helen Louise Morton, of Iowa Falls, Ia.; Miss Alice Gilchrist Peters, of Ottumwa, and Miss Mabel V. Hoffman, of Muscatine, pretty coeds of the University of Iowa, engaged in a 3½ days' fast. They drank nothing but water during the time they were fasting, and by going the allotted length of time without eating they are to receive 35 pounds of chocolate creams. The girls reported that "fasting is all right after you get used to it," and the young men who made the wager with the young women have ordered the candy and are ready to pay their bet.

The young women spent most of the second day in bed to stave off the pangs of hunger by sleep and inaction, and they spent the entire time of the third day sleeping. At midnight they had a grand feast.

Aeronaut's Daring Proposition.

A dispatch to the New York Herald from Paris says: The journals announce that M. Capazza, the first aeronaut who crossed the Mediterranean from Marseilles to Corsica, is about to undertake a most daring journey. M. Capazza, when interviewed, said: "The project which I desire to carry out and which I have studied with M. Elisee Renclus and Baron Berger, the lecturer on physical geography at the Sorbonne, is that of traversing the Atlantic in a balloon, starting from the Canaries and landing at the southeast of Panama. As to my steerable balloon, I hope to have it constructed next year."

And Uncle Sam Pays the Bills.

It will be no fun to dig the isthmian canal, says the Chicago Tribune. There will be a lot of hard dredging about it.

EDGEWOOD, 8069.

Edgewood's breeding is of the most fashionable strain, and contains crosses to all the blood that has produced the winners of the world. Such stallions are too few for the good of the trotting industry. Numbers of the best, were during the hard times just past, exported to foreign countries. Among the few left to fill the requirements Edgewood remains, though yet a young horse, has seven to his credit, with records from 2:24 to 2:10, which, in itself is proof sufficient as to his merit. His colts are all fine, large, good-looking individuals, good actors and trotters, and command the top prices when led in the sale ring. Gayety, 2:18½, one of his handsome daughters, was sold to John Splan, of Cleveland, Ohio, last February for Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00). Eight youngsters by him were sold in John S. Lackey's sale in March last, by S. J. Fleming & Son, of Terre Haute, Ind., for prices that proved to them that there was still money in raising colts by the right kind of a horse.

Edgewood is the property of S. J. Fleming & Son, of Terre Haute, Ind., and ranks with such horses as Margrave, Axtell, and Jersey Wilks, which is proven by his list of colts with race records. His colts make fine roadsters and Matinee horses and are sought for that purpose as well as for race horses.

Edgewood, by Nutwood, (600) sire of 160 performers, including Lockheart, 2:08½, Manager, 2:06 and 12 others in 2:10 list. He by Belmont. He by Abdallah, 15. He by Hambletonian, 10. Nutwood's dam, Miss Russell, dam of Maud S, 2:08½, and six others. Her sons are sires of 223, and Edgewood's dam, Melrose, is the dam of Glenview Belle, 2:20½, and Frances, (2 yr.) 2:28½, made in 1901. His second dam, Moss Rose, dam of Nutrose, 2:22, and grand dam of 16, 3rd dam, Primrose, the dam of 6, from 3:30 to 2:20, 4th dam, Black Rose, dam of 5 in the 2:30 list.

This grandly bred horse will make the season at J. J. Van Cere's farm on the Clarksville pike. For further information, address

THE CITY FATHERS

Fleet and Transact Business Of Importance.

The City Council met in regular session last Friday night. All the members were present.

The 11 o'clock closing ordinance, which was repealed about a month ago, and has caused considerable comment, bobbed up for action. Nearly all of the churches here passed resolutions, expressive of the desire to have the ordinance again in force. The status of the matter is so generally understood, it is not necessary to say a word of explanation.

The Kentucky and Tennessee board of underwriters want the wiring of the city and buildings to be inspected by an electrician, and asked that the office be created. Referred to the proper committee.

An ordinance was passed requiring all births, deaths and contagious diseases to be reported to Dr. Woodward, city health officer.

Bilious Colic.

H. Seever, a carpenter and builder of Kenton, Tenn., when suffering intensely from an attack of bilious colic, sent to a nearby drug store for something to relieve him. The druggist sent him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, three doses of which effected a permanent cure. This is the only remedy that can be depended upon in the most severe cases of colic and cholera morbus. Most druggists know this and recommend it when such a medicine is called for. Something That Will do You Good

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, colds, and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with such good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their houses as a safeguard against croup. —Camden (S. C.) SIMPLE REMEDY,

Although It Might Shock a Kentucky Colonel.

Old men are to disappear, the ravages of time are to cease, and when full development is reached people may remain at that stage and live forever, according to Dr. S. Marcus Rothschild, of Chicago.

"Old age is nothing but a disease," he said. "A man can live just as long as he wants to. He has the matter in his hands, but he must live a natural life." Water is the secret. Both inside and outside use, for the pores must be opened and poison moved from the system. "The smartest man that ever lived was Christ," he says. "Christ was the first water doctor in the world. Father Kneipp got his remedy from the Bible, for it is written, 'go and wash seven times in the Jordan and thy flesh shall recover health and thou shalt be clean.' The doctor says all a man has to do to live to be 100 is to use plenty of water and live a correct life.
